1. Course Number: PHY199

Course Title: Special Laboratory in the Physical Sciences

- 2. Description: A laboratory portion of existing physical sciences courses that will provide a laboratory experience for only those students who are transferring in credits for physical sciences courses that do not match the traditional four-credit format (3 credits lecture, 1 credit laboratory). The laboratory selected must closely match the transferred physical sciences course, and must have the explicit approval of both the laboratory instructor and the Dean of Arts and Sciences. Only if seating is available will students be allowed to register for the appropriate laboratory section during the ADD period. Students who transfer in more than one physical sciences course may register twice (but, not for the same laboratory experience) for PHY199. Students with laboratory deficiencies in physical sciences courses taken at CCCC will not be allowed to register for PHY199, since the physical sciences courses are designed and taught such that the laboratory and lecture are non-separable.
- 3. Student Learning Outcomes (instructional objectives; intellectual skills): Provides students with physical sciences laboratory experience for transferred physical sciences courses that do not meet the traditional four credit format. Laboratory student learning outcomes are dependent upon the physical sciences laboratory selected.
- 4. Credits: One (1) Credit
- 5. Satisfies General Education Requirement: No
- 6. Prerequisite(s): Completion of the non-lab portion of a transferred physical sciences course and permission of the Dean of Arts and Sciences.
- 7. Semester(s) Offered: Varies
- 8. Suggested General Guidelines for Evaluation: Dependent upon the physical sciences laboratory selected
- 9. General Topical Outline (Optional): Dependent upon the particular physical sciences selected- approved course syllabi on file in Division of Dean of Arts and Sciences.
