The Associate in Arts degree does not indicate a specialized degree in a concentration.

Overview

The Visual Arts Concentration provides necessary fundamental courses resulting in a quality portfolio of artwork ready for transfer and articulates precisely with the University of Massachusetts-Dartmouth Fine Arts 2D Painting or 3D Sculpture. Students may also choose to transfer to other colleges or universities to continue their art studies.

Career Outlook

Careers in the Visual Arts are constantly changing but could include electronic imaging, graphic design, illustration, teaching, museum and gallery work, display, advertising, and industrial design, as well as the areas of painting, printmaking, sculpture and performance art. It is recommended that students complete this concentration and transfer to complete a bachelor's degree.

*Articulation Agreements

Upon completion of this concentration as outlined, students are guaranteed the transfer of credits to:
