The Paintings of Virginia Pena

Wilkens Library
March 10-16, 2008

Known for her primitive American Folk style, this Harwich native’s oil paintings have come to be greatly appreciated and seen in prestigious locations including the Cahoon Museum in Cotuit. Born and raised within an enclave of Cape Verdeans that made Harwich Center their home early in the 20th Century, Mrs. Pena’s work expresses themes of her heritage and early life on Cape Cod.

This exhibit is co-sponsored by the Cultural Events Committee and the Wilkens Library at Cape Cod Community College.
